Statement of case

The Trial took place in Boltimore County on August 23, 2004. The petitioner was accested and Charged with, first Degree Murder, Extortion, Kidnapping, Dongerous weapont Child Kidnapping, He was sentenced to like without parole plus 43 years.

- All egations of Enzon and Concise Statement of Friets - Ineffective assistance of course

(1) Ml. Warren A. Brown acts and omissions were outside the wide range of professional competent assistance. He chose to pursue no other defense besides beating the case on a technicality on the indictment.

(2) MR. Brown failed to purse my defense of not Criminally responsible despite my request and prepared research

(S) MR. Brown was ineffective because he represented me in a Capital case without a second chain while the state had two chairs:

(4) MR. Brown put the otates case to no adverseial testing. He hardly cross-examined only of the states witnesses at all and he had no defense.

- 3
 - (6) MR. Brown preductive my defense by turning over all of my expect work product for NCR to the State without my presmission of my knowledge. Work product the failed to Use dispite my request to for NCR defense. He violated my trust and loyalty. He failed to inform me on this important decision. If it had not been for MR. Browns deficent performance inderminding the Confidence in the out come and his in professional errors, the result of the proceeding would have been different.
- (6) I was cleared my constituent guarenteed right to effective assistance of comsel when MR. Brown failed to investigate and present substantial mitigating evidence during sentencing phase of my capital morder thial with evidence already prepared.
 - (2) MR Brown had never tried a clearth penalty case before ond was only allotted two weeks to propose because of denied past ponement.
 - (8) Mr. Brown Knew He States criticus where in the Countram ""

 - (9) MR. Brown Called none of the witnesses that were already prepared and ready to go by the premous attorneys. His performance predictive

My defense.

(10) MR. Brown failed to adequately investigate and present evidence in mitigation of quilt. MR. Brown performance fell below and obsertive standard of resonableses, these persudicing my defense.

Defende Bull and Enic McDonnell my afformers at my new Gentencing hearing failed to object to a Juny instruction that the Juny was able to include their emotions and how they felt in the verdict. If it would not have been for the prosecutor Saying yes to the Juny's question of con they include their emotions in the verdict. I most likely wouldn't have been sontened to like without parole it would have been a different ortcome:

(2) MA. Brown did not prepare for the competercy resve that Ms. Buil and Mr. McDonnell were litisating, the did not contact the Mental health experts that were already retained by previous Courses and retained none of his own, the did not contact the examining count psychiatrist from the office of the Bartmere country cant house. Had he prepared for the competency hearing and contacted the already retained exposts there was as trong possibility. I would have been found incorporated to Stand frical. This prediction my defense.

(13) The record reflects that apon the Judge having a Conversation with my attorney and the State; DR. Alizai interlects herself into the conversation and this is where her testimony besins. The was never sween in on placed ender oath. There fore she was not subject to the penalty of persony or ony other consequence for not telling the tooth or who ever come to mind in order to naugate the proceedings her way or toward the states asanda, She was sitting in the countroom the entiretime De Inoye testified. She Society backed up what he said. They both Know the great-grand mother of the victim. Had the witness been Swan in, her testmony would have been different, she would have had to tell the touth and I would have been sent book to perkins for a proper inpatient evaluation and been found in competent to stand trial because of dissociating disorder. DR. Alizais testmony begins on page 185 and ends on 188 by Stating her home for the record but was never swon in (my Offenneys ms Bull ord me mc sonnell never obserted. S(According to Manyland Ceiminal Procedure 11-403 it dictates in no encertain teems the requirement that the Motion be placed enclose outh. 11-403 (b) (2) [The court] may allow the victim or victims representine to address the Count Under Oath before the imposition of Sentence or Other disposition out the request of the victim or netons Feprometric). It was never placed on the record

Of all as to why perkins made the decision to Charge the evaluation from count ordered inpatient to outpatient Cpg. 184: 13-16) MD. Pule 5-615 Say's witnesses are to be sequestered.

Jury not impartial

The Verdict must be based upon evidence at trial regardless of the heinousness of the Charge, apparent quilt of the offender or his station in life. A Juron must be able to lay aside his impressions on the importial. The prosecutor in my case approved of the Jung using their emotions to determine the verdict at Sentencing. If it wouldn't have happen I probably would have received a lesser sontence.

Application for Amendment & Addendum

Now comes the petitioner, Jamaal K. Abeokuto ID#323-969 Dro, Be and in proper person, petitioning this Honorable Court, Seeking Fellet under the uniform post Connetton Procedure Act.

Allegations of Error and Concise Statement of FACTS

Court order was violated because proper procedure was not kept for mental health evaluation.

Manyland Rule 3-105 # 2 Say's "The Court shall set and may change the Conditions under which the examination is to be made".

Except in a capital case, on consideration of the nature of the Charges the Court: May require or allow the examination to be done 3ut patient. In this case I was ordered to a impatient evaluation at client. The Staff at Cliften Tiperkins Changed it to out patient and found me competent. I was there for what they beg was I believe this was done delibrately because the victim in this cases grand mother is a long time employee at 21 ften Tiperkins. There fore, it made the Staff biased toward me because of the publicity of this case and her working along side them. They testified at my competency hearing "they had a bed" ready for me but did the evaluation out patient (page 185: 14-19). The prosecutor Said he saw nothing wrong with them changing the evaluation from impatient to out patient Peren though I was diagnosed with dissociating which has to be evaluated and diagnosed over a period of time) Obviously the prosecutor didn't know the law. Chage 183:3-6) Docton In your at perkins said himself that the diagnosis of dissociating is diagnosed over a period of time. It's not something that accours frequently. So, how did he diagnose me is such a short period at time? (878) [Add)- Mylowsters forther to obslept.)

In effective Asst.

D Mr. Warren Brown did not prepare for the competency assise that ms. 30/1000/Mr. McDonnell were litigating. He did not contract the mental health experts that were already retained and retained none of his own. He did not contract the examining Count Psychiatrust's from the office of Barhmare county court house. Had he prepare for the Competency hearing and contacts the already retained experts there was a strong Possibity Zworld have been found incompentant to stand fried. This produced my defense.

B) The record reflects that upon the Judge having a conversation with my Attention and the state, DR Alizai intersects herself into the conversation and this is where her testimony begins. She was neveral placed under oath, Therefore, she was not subject to the penalty of persury or any other consequence for not telling the fourth or whatever comes to mind in order to nangale the proceeding her way or found the statesageness the area of the pathog in the court room the entire time DR I nays tretted sk could a single backed up what he said. They both the point the graph methor of the notion. Had the witness been Swoen in, her testimony would have been chafferent, she would have had to tell the truth and I would have been sent back to peekins for a proper inpatient evaluation and been found incompetent to stand their because of dissociation disorder. Dr. A Lizai's testimony begins on page 185 and ends on 188 by stating harmon for the record but was nown summen in). According to Mayland Criminal procedure 11-403 it dictates in no uncertain teems the requirement that the inchmalian be placed under Oath. 11-403 (b) (2) [The Count] may allow the lichim or rictimo representative to address the count under oath before the imposition of Sonkince or other disposition at the request entitle victim or victimo representative to address the count under oath before the imposition of Sonkince or other disposition at the request entitle victim or victimos represent to change the evaluation for court address to why perkins made the decision to Change the evaluation for court address in patient to out patient (pg 184113-16).

(Hosterics)
(B) The count states I suggest that mesisure and me machanish also provided ineffective assistance in failing to object to a sury instruction and that the claim was withdrawn. Sudge Enson in open count refused to allow me hawfor to withdraw my issues the Stated, "that is not fair", she had reed are all this and prepared for the issue and made him raise them. The state went over every issue but one she let me withdraw and trued to got them dismissed, she said no but withdraw thom in her discision. That's an error and assue I may have gotten return on because astory can't include their emoties in a decision and they asked the question and the state assured yes, my layer didn't object.

H) footnote 4. I did not withdraw the chain that the parkins evolution was Flawed (fins). She withdrew this offer count; when she said she wount, going to let us antination them. At the odice of counsel I withdraw one, she asked me encounaged us to raise all passible 1860es in its opinion in the Affait Syed case. I feet better outh her doing all the 1880es because my Lawlor weren did the Supplement little he fold me. All he fold me was if he losp thep in touch with him because the law has been changing about atlemonsy. (See fronscript)

5) The count of Appeals has made clear, Postconviction proceeding are generally the preferred avenue of redress with respect to ineffective assistance of Counsel Claims because the record rorely reveals why counsel acted on omitted to act, and Such proceedings allow for fact finding and the introduction of tehmony and evidence directly related to allegations of the coursels ineffectives. that's why I don't understand why ma Lawter failed to use the endance I presented Ho him of worren Brown's dependency upon states in accorate evidence. His performe was deficent because he relied on perkins report and not the allense experts, This erron was so serious he was not functioning as the "counsel" of varanteed the defendant by the Six amendment. Because of his relionce on Dr. Inpuye's inconsistant Report and festimony it preductice my defense and ability to fair trial. Therefore it shows that my conviction was resulted from a brookdown in the adversory process that renders the result unreliable. I believe the Affirmative proves presodice I fenter Kind out at my post convetion Leaving that warren Brown who charaged my mather $47,000 in 2002 to represent me which she paid and he delayed his opporance armid numerous calls from formily and the court as to what was taking him solong, He was holding up the case and the public defenders know about it CAugust 6, 2005 $ m noch 2004) Told us he had death penalty experience and automitted he didn't to my surprise in open cort. Amonda Bull the didn't and I didn't believe her He was one of the main ones pulling my strings through the federal case, he told the to white Judge Byrnes to let him Know I wanted worren Brown to represent me. He know I want suppose to do that (page 11) women Brown misled the Judge and dight tell the truth, I've never know him personally. He represented me as Juvenille court, He told Judge Enson he didn't remamber where and Said he Know me Since I was a child and the Judge took it that way She emphasis child like it was early age childhood, as , the was around for my donolog nout. In 11th grade he represented me and the rose was statted,

Afterwards, he gave me a sab out his office as a inter, that was only 4 Eyesses before this case. I went to one work party at his home on chaistmos of 1997 with my days now mom. There was no relationship out Side this with warms Brown. The sear him once in public in 2002, the year of the offense, we both coooled little beague football and I saw him in passing. (Page 23 of Judges apinion)

On August 16, 2004, the lost day of the competency hearing. Women Brown called me a "stronge creative" to the Judge and I asked m Lawlor to file in effective on this because Harren Brown didn't protect my innocence but, futhermore hatold ne I would be found quilty and would try to best the case by a tehreality. This is not the language of Someone who Bay's the Knows me personally 87 mice childhood, to tell the Judge Zues a Stronge creative. He himself finds me competent but Lower never found any issues forme ner raise what I asked on Sugaraked. (August 16,7004 page 7-13) He doesn't mention to the Atternay Grivence commission onything about hours persond expanse with me. He references to the 15 page perkine report not any person expense of all one this is June 2009. Ibstilie the attrocked will explain (AGC Response Cetter); (Ponkins Report Bhow inconsistency See attracted). I before Judge Enson errored in accepting works Browns experience with me, which he descrabes as being personal as the experience in mental health needed to delarmine whether or not to file the new I requested He Saed He is of a sound mind; you don't Readily have to be a weatherman to Know which way the wind is blowing. You know enough about human nature, the Neas, and competency, they standard. They sump out at you (Sudges opinion page 24) This qualities him to make this decision, the Said of world have been dosord if he remembered me asking him that. I believe this strands as proof he world have dismissed it when I asked him about it. I worked as a intern for women Brown in my high 3chool co-ap progen in 12th grade, For about zohns aweek thom Ipm to 5 pm monty Friday for $ 100 powerly for less than ayear and he let mego. Then was not much time spent. I had hat Buhool days; to work the Other half, to prepose for college, the didn't read me cry larger Sc, he lot me 30 and I Romana the School year Even if he didn't remember me asking him about the NCR, it should be in the experts notes he recoved from my defense from with the public detenders office, they were working on it. I didn't know what a working Until Itamed it from my defense tem because mis storenson soid, I Was closed it, it depended on Dr. Saibut, WARREN Brown never returned He expects calls (march 6, 2007 - page 21:1-12; DR Scibert Wootedand me not Cournally responsible) & (May 4, 2007 Page 53:5-page 55 afere he ducuses treatment.) Treece vs. Strate 1988 Boy's it's cultainately my decision and not the lapoyer non the court to file NEA Further information which is the dure 9, 2009 lefter to the Attorney Grievence Commission, reveals that women Brown depended on the Blates Clifton T. perkins report to decide if I was Violle for Nex. Yet penkins Never evaluated me for Nor. According to their report they explain to me whatit Was often asking me don't it. I have never failed to parking about the offense at all Non the fine of the offense, Is it this required for Clippord Responsibility - Eleview Helsport they wot martin it not evaluate forist. They concluded I was compotent Not I end cleanedly Agamsible, lugger Brown never reformed Nor Contrated my pre exsisting expects and ma Lowler Forled to raise this , He was given this information to File DR I nouge: June 22, 2004 (page 21: 14-16 & page 24: 3-17), that I was evaluated for Can petency to stand toial, this his test many but, he didn't state were but, he mentions it on the first page of his report (See Attached). Withen Brown 1abe tells the Afternay Orievance Commission I was evaluated by precling for both and Say's See attached attached the perlins report. After revolucing the perlins reports it does soythis but, this is not what DR In ovye says in count HESayS I was evaluated for competency. He neva mentions were but, his report is offerent that's why I questioned his festi many form his original notes at perkins to they reflect his testimeny. The Judge deht order a New evaluation (I believe this shows The Dris bias toward the family against me and undication for the family avoichin in cosa WARREN Brown is wrong I'm not saying I am the victim I am saying this is a

	Informed him that the Statement of Changes included Kidnapping Etc. Yet on June 22, 2004 (page 24: 6-17) Attricted - He makes what he calls "one qualifying statement Which is that I dadn't read the explication of statement of Charges before informing me Abeallute but, this is not true. His evaluation strateus under "forensic Jesuse" he Stoles the Charges in the evaluation on April 20, 2004. So of him ready the festiming is not true most Likely DR. Inoye and Dr Aliazai both read the 3+ Alexent of Charge before hand, they interviewed me together They bots allow the family of the rictim. Bo, it is my opinion that they set out to attach malinguing to both comporterry & Caiminal responsibility byth is report, so I would have no relief from this offense either way, I would get death. Theyworldn't here found in my favor at all for the salle of this Femily, Thatship he didnitell the touth about what I told him in the evaluation he added toit . He made it worst yet No one also reported the things he did. This world render worren Brown ineffective, so yes Zbeliere the lower court got it wrong.

- The howen court Stales on page 22 of its opinion that De Alizai "was not testying at the hoe" yet on page 26 of Judges opinion it is discussed at loopth how De Alizai Soxid Zwas malinguing and that she open observed my behavior in the court Room. The was on the Stand behind De Inyour They called heat of the Stand to testify, Besides that, the Judge Says on page 21 of Prec opinion "the following day" De Kimbee & De Alizai both testify regarding compelling exclusion at parkins she say "June 22,2004 transcept of proceeding". But I have traduce 22,2004 transcept of proceeding. But I have traduce 22,2004 transcept of proceeding. But I have traduce 22,2004 transcept on this transcept.

 De Alizai is the lost to testify and har festing ends the and of Sure that the 21,0004 of June 00 the loopet to get the loopet to get and once again I delant sufficient this issue.
- The court Bitistes with my consent, that some of the issues initially raised by petitioner were withdrawn. This issuest not true. The post connection transcapt needs to be read. She avoidn't allow my attorney to withdraw the issue. They had a spot where she say's, she down't come if he rolls his eyes. She allowed me myself to antidow one with coursel consent. I would have let then an stray in she withdraw than after least herself on herown. I behave this is a error
- County "tended to be prostate". I don't recall this incount deang post but it does bring to mind a issue I asked malormore to raise when women Brain decided to go with sudge are Jury by thial because Judge Boilinging Son had been through Somethings are he would be more Sympethetic and than white poods in Baltimore can'ty would have me Lawker never filed my supplement own additional issues 30 this would be ineffective

	9) The court makes my point on page 12 of its opinion. MR Brown's Ynought anggangan — — — — — — — — — — — — — — — — — — —	process "Has there was no Kidnopping. So it I logically ask what was my datense?
	He put on no defense; he rested. He took my defense away by depending and relying on a perkins report from De Znouge that he couldn't even testify to and Neither did any of his colleggers - De Inoye or Alerai on Kim-les (Asthe autostata) Opposes 21-23 De Alexin No Kontee-(Astrecort States) ever menten any type of evaluation for commal responsibily non mentions at. Inaye's report mentions it he didn't territy to it. Yet women Brown admits to the Attorney Grievance Commission Rin attached Letters that what he depended on his report April 20, 2004 (Altached) and not personal experience with me as he stated of my post connection. So yes, I believe the courts got this wrong and me Lowlon was in effective because he had this ABC letter and the report was in the records, notably compared his testmany to it Warchellenge women Braun on it. He didn't ranse my issuse 10.) The court Bay's I did not identify the witnesses on the beneficial information they were ready to import. For Example I would present (Attached Marich 6, 2007 page

To my Knowledg the usive of important out partient Wan't resolved and worren Brown Just come in and 3 Norm Hed. (Correct neitZIM curons but, I can't do on thing but sit there) The lost parson to testify on this June 22 nd date, the loner court refers to is DR ALIZAI, you have two opinions One compelent and mother incompetent (page 180; 6:14 & page 181) Judge Bollinger Say's, I If we get someone from parkins to morrow which would the 23rd, Howwood He Hearing conclude on the 22nd of sure, When it actually concluded on the 16th or August with Ottonney Worran foroun colling me to the dutie a stronge Creatine and in the Dame Selatonces tells the Judge I am compotent - "he is now" and Submits C Healso admits to reviewing De Indupe testimony and Bubmits. Ho me it seems he may be the one pro-state and not the dury of Baltimore country as the Count Suggested to Said), (Argust 16, 2004 page 6-8:7-12). Judge Erson has it awang. Dakin-lea what in the transcript of surezzad - the transport is 188 pages and Alizai is lost today fy as I said. If really is incorrectable Erron: We don't Know it I was can pelent on net at the time. Once again closen Brown is a expect to Say I'm coppelant without my expects who he later enters his apperance. (Avg/6, 2004 page6:13). I have no transcript that rosolves the June 22, 2004 issue that Judge Bollinger Baings up on page 181. on poses 187-188 the Lest pogos of June 22, 2004 DR Alazai states her name forthe record by Alfis court Sois she didn't testify. She onewand graphes at the end god thy needed the record complete (see a Horded) 1 (AUSO a Horded) page 183-188 or Jone 22nd trasmet & page 8 of crysmal petition with manylord and 3-105 which 3) states only succount con change a evolution in a capital case

12. MR LANDE ausine Rective because I gave him a 11 He information from the Chiffen Ti peakins & The Attenday Gasevence commission that Shows that women Brown relied on the parkins report for his decision on Not commonly responsible which contradicts his past conviction testimony and Lawter ded not propose. He dedn't Challenge the credibility of the most and testimony from Dr. Inouye that worms brown admits he retical on that contradict each other. Thus it depredize my post connection relief.

B). The court found where victims non Stunded out in court in the transcript—thet was also missing Baying, I was not Commoily responsible. Limitor soid page 53:5-page 54:12) Matanhar didnot propose for this. I brought my may 4,2007 & march 6,2007 transport to court and showed it to him and he used it. Ble course he kept telling me it was not in there. I showed him page 53 & 54 of may 4,2007 on it wouldn't have been marked.

Porent worked (crucians as a frow) at chiften T. perlines. I need to get from under this malingueine aligation. Judge Enson took into Account De Inoye's & Alizoi testimony buty didn't take into account De Steinson who sport attest zo has a with me and found who incapellant was the seise also said portial malingueine (moy 4, 2007 pg 21113 - pg 24:41) As a scared 23 year old with No expenses of life I was scared to tell the truth because I feet the truth was in bear be, it would case them to Kill me. To I come clean and I ended up with a life Sentence instead of down beause I felt that more would endustrand the touth even if I didn't a expect who has nothing to gain by lying for me but DR. Inouge has dot to gain for this femily who is against me, that he has a relationship with at pulling. The disappointing thing is he tried to strike vegance on me and we one Sugase to be oble to trust our Dators and officials. He afterpled to make it works for me and they all got what they wanted; I was sortened to detth DR. Inouse told the touth about nothing I Said, what I baid he made worse. So it would work against me. I've wondered if his onsino! notes From the interview reflect his testimony and Dr Alizai as present in the interview but, she wan't growth and about what I explained to Hem. The court refers to the Testmony of On Inoupe, OR A 117ai and Dol. Coloman which not one has testified in court to evicinity me for Nen. I nouse does not have it in his report as forersic findings he Just montas it and explains chefitis. In my opinion to eliminate all possible mental health defenses with malingering. No one has reported me saying totlan what he has. Do Aliazi moint even questioned about the report but she signed it (See attaked - Signel may 6 2004), The court Bays, he was personally agrainted with me long bofore monaiona's death. MEMORANDUM OPINION

Currently pending before the Court is the Petition for Post Conviction Relief (Paper No. 135,000) (the "Petition"), filed on January 16, 2013, by Jamaal K. Abeokuto (sometimes "Petitioner" or "Mr. Abeokuto") without the benefit of counsel. ¹ The State filed its Answer (Paper No. 137,000) on January 29, 2013, and its Memorandum in Support of its Answer on April 4, 2019. The matter was heard on August 26, 2019. Counsel for Mr. Abeokuto then filed, on August 28, 2019, what was termed a "Post-Hearing Supplemental Argument." The Court has considered the entire file, including Mr. Abeokuto's Petition, the State's Answer and Memorandum in Support, the testimony provided, the arguments presented during the hearing, the post-hearing supplement, the transcripts, and the relevant law. For the reasons outlined below, Mr. Abeokuto's request for post conviction relief will be denied in its entirety. A separate Order follows this Opinion.

Entered: Clerk, Circuit Court for Baltimore County, MD April 13, 2020

Mr. Abeokuto indicates that this is his "first petition for relief under this act." It is, in fact, his second petition. The first Petition for Post Conviction Relief was filed on June 10, 2009, and subsequently withdrawn.

BACKGROUND

On or about March 4, 2003, in the Circuit Court for Harford County, Mr. Abeokuto was charged via a six-count indictment with Murder in the First Degree (Count One), Assault (Count Two), Extortion (Count Three), Kidnapping (Count Four), Wearing or Carrying a Dangerous Weapon Openly with Intent to Injure (Count Five), and Child Kidnapping (Count Six). Specifically, Mr. Abeokuto was charged with the murder of his girlfriend's eight-year-old daughter, Marciana Ringo. On March 5, 2003, the State notified Petitioner that it was seeking the death penalty. The notice was hand-delivered directly to Mr. Abeokuto and also sent to his attorneys. Counsel from the Office of the Public Defender, Deputy District Public Defender Amanda Bull and Assistant Public Defender Eric MacDonnell, formally entered their appearance on behalf of Mr. Abeokuto on March 6, 2003. Several weeks later, on May 16, 2003, Petitioner filed a suggestion of removal. The Honorable John Grason Turnbull, II, Third Circuit Administrative Judge, ordered, on June 10, 2003, that the matter be transferred to the Circuit Court for Baltimore County. Initially, the case was assigned specially to the Honorable J. Norris Byrnes and was scheduled for trial on January 26, 2004. The matter was postponed at the request of Mr. Abeokuto and rescheduled for April 6, 2004. Prior to the April trial date, however, Judge Byrnes fell ill; the case was reassigned on March 31, 2004, to the Honorable Thomas J. Bollinger.

Jury selection began on April 6, 2004, but was not completed as, on April 8, 2004,

• Mr. Abeokuto alleged that he was incompetent to stand trial. Dr. David Waltos conducted a pre-trial evaluation at that time. Dr. Waltos opined, to a reasonable degree of medical probability, that Mr. Abeokuto understood the nature of the pending charges. There was a concern, however, that he may not have been able to consult sufficiently with counsel. The case was postponed. On April 14, 2004, Judge Bollinger ordered that Mr. Abeokuto be examined for competency to stand trial.

Pursuant to that order, Dr. Inouye conducted a further evaluation of Mr. Abeokuto. He personally evaluated Petitioner on April 20, 2004. He also reviewed numerous documents, including the April 28, 2003, health assessment performed at the Harford County Detention Center, the November 3, 2003, psychologist's evaluation, the April 8, 2004, psychiatric evaluation, and the April 13, 2004, re-evaluation. Dr. Inouye noted that Mr. Abeokuto had no history of psychiatric treatment. He offered the opinion that, although Mr. Abeokuto suffered from anxiety and depression, he otherwise was malingering and competent to stand trial. The defense contested the finding of competence and asked "that the case be set for a hearing on competence prior to proceeding with the trial." May 19, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("5/19 Tr.") at 3.

The case was scheduled for a competency hearing on June 21 and 22, 2004. Unfortunately, due to a health issue, Dr. Waltos was not available to testify on those dates. Judge Bollinger heard two days of testimony and then, in order to ensure the defense a full opportunity to present its evidence on the issue of competency, continued the hearing until August 16, 2004. At that time, after "review of the testimony... and consideration of the reports submitted," Judge Bollinger found "that Mr. Abeokuto was and is competent to stand trial and to aid and assist his counsel in his defense." August 16, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("8/16 Tr.") at 8.

Warren Brown ("Trial Counsel" or "Mr. Brown") entered his appearance on behalf of Mr. Abeokuto on or about July 19, 2004. The State objected to the notice to strike the appearance of Amanda Bull and Eric MacDonnell, explaining that it did not want to have the case again postponed as a result of a new attorney entering his appearance. On August 6, 2004, Judge Bollinger struck the appearance of Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell but denied Mr. Brown's request for postponement. As already mentioned, following the conclusion of the competency hearing on August 16, 2004, Judge Bollinger found Mr. Abeokuto competent to stand trial. Petitioner then elected to be tried by the Court.

The trial proceeded before Judge Bollinger on August 23–27, 2004. At the conclusion of the case, Judge Bollinger found Mr. Abeokuto guilty of all charges.² Petitioner then elected to be sentenced by Judge Bollinger. Disposition was scheduled for November 15–17, 2004. Judge Bollinger ultimately sentenced Mr. Abeokuto to death plus 43 years.

Mr. Abeokuto appealed his convictions. On February 13, 2006, the Court of Appeals affirmed the judgments but vacated the sentence and remanded the case for a new sentencing hearing. On May 19, 2006, Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell re-entered their appearance on behalf of Mr. Abeokuto. Judge Bollinger granted a Motion to Recuse himself on June 15, 2006; the case was transferred to the Honorable Patrick Cavanaugh for the new sentencing hearing.

Judge Bollinger subsequently denied Petitioner's Motion for a New Trial.

The matter was scheduled for resentencing on November 20, 2006. Roughly one month prior, on October 19, 2006, Mr. Abeokuto notified the Court of his election to be sentenced by a jury. As a result of a late-filed motion in limine, the sentencing was postponed and rescheduled for April 18, 2007. The matter again was postponed and reset for April 23, 2007. Jury selection began on April 23rd and concluded on April 26, 2007. Following a multi-day hearing, the jury determined that the appropriate sentence as to Count One, the First Degree Murder of Marciana Ringo, was a term of life, without the possibility of parole, to be served consecutively to any and all other present sentences.

On June 10, 2009, Mr. Abeokuto filed, without the benefit of counsel, a Petition for Post Conviction Relief, claiming, among other things, ineffective assistance of counsel. Mr. Abeokuto later filed an Application for Amendment and Addendum. On September 26, 2011, however, he filed a Motion to Withdraw the Petition for Post Conviction Relief, which was granted. On January 16, 2013, Mr. Abeokuto essentially re-filed his initial Petition for Post Conviction Relief. In addition to raising the allegations lodged in the initial petition, Mr. Abeokuto claimed that the competency evaluation was flawed because it was not performed on an in-patient basis.

The matter was scheduled for hearing on multiple occasions but postponed at Mr. Abeokuto's request. Current counsel entered his appearance on behalf of Mr. Abeokuto on April 2, 2014. Following additional postponements, the case was heard on August 26, 2019. Mr. Brown and Mr. Abeokuto both testified.

DISCUSSION

I. Waiver

Pursuant to MD. Crim. Proc. § 7-106(b), "an allegation of error is waived when a petitioner could have made but intelligently and knowingly failed to make the allegation:

- 1. before trial:
- at trial;
- 3. on direct appeal, whether or not the petitioner took an appeal;
- 4. in an application for leave to appeal a conviction based on a guilty plea;
- 5. in a habeas corpus or coram nobis proceeding began by the petitioner;
- 6. in a prior petition under this subtitle; or seed of
- 7. in any other proceeding that the petitioner began."

The "intelligent and knowing" standard only applies if the claim asserted is a fundamental right. State v. Torres, 86 Md. App. 560, 568 (1991). If the claim asserted is not a fundamental right, the Court will look to general legal principles to determine if the claim has been waived. Id. "The most significant of these principles is that the failure to exercise a prior opportunity to raise an allegation of error generally effects a waiver of right to raise the matter at a later time." Id. "Fundamental rights have been defined as being, almost without exception, basic rights of constitutional origin, whether federal or state, that have been guaranteed to a criminal defendant in order to preserve a fair trial and the reliability of the truth-determining process." Wyche v. State, 53 Md. App. 403, 406 (1983) (citing Schneckloth v. Bustamonte, 412 U.S. 218, 236 (1973)).

The Court of Appeals also has made clear that the "intelligent and knowing" standard does not apply to every constitutional right. Oken v. State, 343 Md. 256 (1996). For example, "tactical decisions, when made by an authorized competent attorney, as well as legitimate procedural requirements, will normally bind a criminal defendant." Curtis v. State, 284 Md. 132, 150 (1978). Fundamental rights, in which the "intelligent and knowing" standard has been found to apply are: (1) the Sixth Amendment right to assistance of counsel; (2) the right to trial by jury; (3) rights regarding guilty pleas; (4) rights regarding Fifth Amendment self-incrimination; (5) rights granted by the Double Jeopardy Clause; (6) the Sixth Amendment right to be present at trial to confront witnesses; (7) the right to speedy trial; and (8) the right to counsel at post indictment pre-trial lineup. Wyche, 53 Md. App. at 406.

Even in situations in which the "intelligent and knowing" standard does apply, "[w]hen a petitioner could have made an allegation of error but did not . . ., there is a rebuttable presumption that the petitioner intelligently and knowingly failed" to do so. Md. Code Ann., Crim. Proc. § 7-106(b)(2). The "[f]ailure to make an allegation of error shall be excused if special circumstances exist." § 7-106(b)(1)(ii)(1). The burden of proving special circumstances rests with the petitioner. § 7-106(b)(1)(ii)(2).

In addition, the Court of Appeals has held that a post conviction proceeding is the most appropriate way to raise a claim of ineffectiveness of counsel. Mosley v. State, 378 Md. 548, 558-59 (2003). This is, at least in part, because the Maryland Uniform Post Conviction Procedure Act allows for "the possibility of an evidentiary hearing, reflecting a recognition that 'adequate procedures exist at the trial level, as distinguished from the appellate level, for taking testimony, receiving evidence, and making factual findings thereon concerning the allegations of error." Id. at 560 (quoting Wilson v. State, 284 Md. 664, 675 (1979)). Moreover, as the Court of Appeals has made clear, post conviction proceedings are generally the preferred avenue of redress with respect to ineffective assistance of counsel claims because the record "rarely reveals why counsel acted or omitted to act, and such proceedings allow for fact-finding and the introduction of testimony and evidence directly related to allegations of the counsel's ineffectiveness." Id. Thus, a number of issues raised by Petitioner have been waived. Mr. Abeokuto has not waived the allegations that Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance.

II. Ineffective Assistance of Counsel

The United States Supreme Court has stated that the right to counsel under the Sixth Amendment necessarily includes the right to "effective assistance of counsel." Strickland v. Washington, 466 U.S. 668, 686 (1984) (quoting McMann v. Richardson, 397 U.S. 759, 771 n.14 (1970)). The inquiry as to whether counsel rendered ineffective assistance is conducted pursuant to a two-pronged test:

[f]irst, the defendant must show that counsel's performance was deficient. This requires showing that counsel made errors so serious that counsel was not functioning as the "counsel" guaranteed the defendant by the Sixth Amendment. Second,

For instance, Petitioner argues that Dr. Alizai "was never sworn in or placed under oath." He finds fault with the fact that Dr. Alizai "was sitting in the courtroom the entire time Dr. Inouye testified." Mr. Abeokuto also boldly claims that the jury was "not impartial." He suggests that "[t]here are portions in the transcripts that are missing," and that the prosecutor engaged in misconduct by calling him a "murderer in open court before [he] was convicted of any crime." Each of these allegations has been waived. Were they not waived, they do not constitute grounds for post conviction relief.

Petitioner initially suggested that Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell also provided ineffective assistance in failing to object to a jury instruction. That claim was withdrawn. There remains a hint of a suggestion that they were ineffective in failing to object to Dr. Alizai answering some logistical questions from Judge Bollinger at the end of the first day of the competency hearing. This vague claim has no merit, especially since Mr. Abeokuto has withdrawn the claim that the Perkins evaluation was flawed. See fn 5.

the defendant must show that the deficient performance prejudiced the defense. This requires showing that counsel's errors were so serious as to deprive the defendant of a fair trial, a trial whose result is reliable. Unless a defendant makes both showings, it cannot be said that the conviction a resulted from a breakdown in the adversary process that renders the result unreliable.

Id. at 687.

In order to prove deficient performance, "the defendant must: (1) demonstrate that counsel's acts or omissions, given the circumstances, fell below an objective standard of reasonableness considering prevailing professional norms, and (2) overcome the presumption that the challenged conduct be considered sound trial strategy." Evans v. State, 151 Md. App. 365, 373 (2003) (quoting Wiggins v. State, 352 Md. 580, 602 (1999)). In assessing counsel's performance, this Court must be "highly deferential" and "indulge a strong presumption that counsel's conduct falls within the wide range of reasonable professional assistance." Id. (quoting Strickland, 466 U.S. at 689).

In evaluating the prejudice prong, our Court of Appeals has defined prejudice as "a substantial possibility that, but for counsel's error, the result of [the petitioner's] proceeding would have been different." Smith v. State, 394 Md. 184, 209 (2006) (quoting In re Parris W., 363 Md. 717, 727–28 (2001)). The petitioner's burden under the prejudice prong may not be taken lightly; it is a difficult hurdle to overcome. A defendant must "affirmatively prove prejudice." Harris v. State, 303 Md. 685, 699 (1985) (quoting Strickland, 466 U.S. at 693). Merely alleging that some errors "had some conceivable effect on the outcome of the proceeding, or that errors impaired the presentation of the defense" is not sufficient. Id. at 700 (emphases in original).

III. Allegations Raised

At the August 26, 2019, hearing, counsel for Mr. Abeokuto, with his client's consent, withdrew some of the issues initially raised by Petitioner in his January 16, 2013, Petition for Post Conviction Relief.⁵ In addition, as already mentioned, several of the issues raised have been waived. That said, still viable and requiring determination are the many allegations that Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance.

Initially, Mr. Abeokuto was represented by Amanda Bull and Eric MacDonnell, with the Office of the Public Defender. Prior to trial, however, Mr. Abeokuto discharged Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell and retained Warren Brown to represent him. As pointed out by Ms. Bull in argument before Judge Bollinger, Mr. Abeokuto was "entitled to counsel of choice." August 6, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("8/6 Tr.") at 3. "He expressed that choice back in March [2004] in a letter to Judge Byrnes requesting that [Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell] be discharged from the case, and that Mr. Brown enter." Id. In fact, Mr. Brown already was familiar with the case as he represented Petitioner in "a companion federal case... related to this incident." Id. at 8.

The following allegations were withdrawn:

⁽¹⁾ That Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance because he represented Mr. Abeokuto "in a capital case without a second chair while the State had two chairs;"

⁽²⁾ That Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance by failing "to investigate and present substantial mitigating evidence during [the] sentencing phase;"

⁽³⁾ That Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance because he "had never tried a death penalty case before;"

⁽⁴⁾ That Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance by failing "to adequately investigate and present evidence in mitigation of guilt;"

⁽⁵⁾ That Amanda Bull and Eric MacDonnell provided ineffective assistance by failing "to object to a jury instruction that the jury was able to include their emotions and how they felt in the verdict;"

⁽⁶⁾ That the jury was "not impartial;" and

Mr. Brown was admitted to the Maryland Bar in 1980 and, since then, has practiced all over the State, exclusively in the area of criminal defense.⁶ Prior to being retained to represent Mr. Abeokuto, Mr. Brown had represented approximately 120 individuals charged with murder.⁷ He is well known and enjoys a very fine representation in the legal community.

Mr. Brown was called as a witness at the August 26, 2019, hearing. At that time, Mr. Brown testified credibly and convincingly regarding his prior personal knowledge of and interactions with Mr. Abeokuto. According to Mr. Brown, Mr. Abeokuto was "not unknown to him." In fact, Mr. Brown explained that Petitioner was a child when they first met and that he and Mr. Abeokuto spent a considerable amount of time together over the years. Indeed, Mr. Brown hired Mr. Abeokuto to work in Mr. Brown's law office and, on occasion, had Petitioner to his home. Mr. Brown testified that, based on his significant personal interactions with Petitioner, the question of criminal responsibility was "a complete non-issue." Mr. Brown added that he understood why an attorney with no prior relationship with Mr. Abeokuto would seek to engage an expert witness regarding criminal responsibility, but, in his opinion, it was completely unnecessary.

Mr. Brown testified that his intention was to map out an exit strategy for Mr. Abeokuto. According to Mr. Brown, the State's case against Petitioner "was very, very strong." In addition, Mr. Brown explained that, at the time of trial, the jurors in Baltimore County "tended to be pro state."

⁶ Mr. Brown also has represented defendants in the courts of New York, Delaware, Virginia, and Pennsylvania.

Mr. Brown, however, had not represented a defendant for whom the State was seeking a sentence of death.

Mr. Brown testified that his specific strategy at the time of trial was to undermine the strength of the State's case regarding the kidnapping charge. Mr. Brown explained that he "intended to chip away at the State's case" but wanted to focus on the kidnapping charge as it could serve as an aggravating factor for the death penalty.⁸ At the post conviction hearing, Mr. Brown explained his thought process:

the strategy at the time of trial was to undermine the predicate for the death penalty, which would have been, in this case, kidnapping, so I concluded, in my mind, that the State had a very, very strong case that he had committed this act. The question was in my mind... [was there] proof beyond a reasonable doubt of the kidnapping? Because my thought was there's no kidnapping, then you don't have that aggravating factor that would lead to the death penalty.

August 26, 2019, audio recording of hearing ("AR") at 10:04:33 a.m. – 10:05:15 a.m. Mr. Brown needed an exit strategy because, "[g]oing in [to trial], it looked bleak in terms of culpability with regard to the actual murder." AR at 10:06:20 a.m. – 10:06:30 a.m.

According to Mr. Abeokuto, Trial Counsel's "acts and omissions were outside the wide range of professional, competent assistance." Petitioner claims that Mr. Brown "put the State's case to no adversarial testing," that Mr. Brown "hardly cross examined any of the State's witnesses at all," and that Mr. Brown "had no defense," other than "beating the case on a technicality." A review of the trial transcripts belies these assertions.

The evidence against Mr. Abeokuto was significant, if not overwhelming. By way of example, Mr. Abeokuto was the last person seen with the victim. He was seen putting the little girl in his car. He lied to the victim's mother when she inquired about the child's whereabouts. He was late for work and was later observed buying a new pair of jeans at the Walmart in Aberdeen. The receipt for the jeans was found in his car. A pair of jeans identified as belonging to him was found near the victim's apartment. The victim's blood was found on the jeans. A bloody pair of Petitioner's work gloves were recovered; the blood was that of Marciana. The ransom note contained Petitioner's DNA and fingerprint.

Mr. Brown employed a readily discernable trial strategy. Clearly, his intent was to protect his client from a sentence of death. Therefore, Mr. Brown focused particularly on the kidnapping and child abduction counts, convictions for which could be considered aggravating circumstances vis-à-vis imposition of the death penalty.

Mr. Brown's plan was clear from the start. In his opening statement, he told Judge Bollinger that Mr. Abeokuto, over the course of his relationship with Ms. White, "developed a very close relationship" with her children. August 23, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("8/23 Tr.") at 14. Mr. Brown explained that his client "would do all the things that a natural parent would do." Id. According to Mr. Brown, Mr. Abeokuto went to Marciana's PTA meetings, took Marciana to the pediatrician, and "would take care of her when Ms. White was either working or out socializing." Id. Trial Counsel pointed out to Judge Bollinger that Ms. White "last saw her daughter when she had left her in the custody of Mr. Abeokuto." Id. (emphasis added). Mr. Brown claimed that Mr. Abeokuto "had custody" of Marciana on the morning of her disappearance and that "he was a parent to [her] on this particular day." Id. at 15.

In addition, with respect to the extortion charge, Mr. Brown indicated that "there was not a lot of money to be had," and that "they were paycheck to paycheck." Id. at 16. He pointed out that Ms. White and Mr. Abeokuto had "access to the same account and . . . there was rarely much money" in it. Id. According to Mr. Brown, the evidence would show that "there was no way that [Mr. Abeokuto] would have sent [a ransom note] with the intent to receive any monies." Id. Trial Counsel reiterated that "there would have been no way that that would have been sent with the intent, expectation of receiving any monies in the amount of $5,000." Id. Indeed, Mr. Brown mentioned that the letter "may have been sent for purpose of, first of all, creating a different trail, of diverting attention from him but it was not sent with the intent to receive any, extort any monies because he knew there wasn't any monies to be had. . . ." Id. at 17.

In a nutshell, Mr. Brown stated the position that, "when all the evidence is in, dust settles and the smoke clears that certainly the State will have fallen short of convincing this Honorable Court beyond a reasonable doubt that there was a kidnapping or a child abduction or for that matter an extortion in this case." Id. at 18.

Mr. Brown followed through with this strategy in his cross examination of Ms. White. For example, upon questioning by Mr. Brown, Ms. White conceded that she had been in a relationship with Petitioner for roughly two years prior to Marciana's death. Id. at 81. She agreed that Mr. Abeokuto had full access to the home and that the children would run to the door whenever he put his key in the lock. Id. When asked, Ms. White admitted that Mr. Abeokuto was very active in the lives of both Marciana and her brother, Mark: Id. at 84. Ms. White agreed that Mr. Abeokuto was a father figure to both children. Id. at 87. She granted that the children even referred to Mr. Abeokuto as "Daddy-mall." Id. at 94. Ms. White also admitted that, on at least a handful of occasions, Mr. Abeokuto gave Marciana a ride to school, just as he claimed he did in this case. Id. at 92. Ms. White further agreed that Mr. Abeokuto was listed as an emergency contact at school because she felt comfortable giving him the authority to act on behalf of Marciana in the event of an emergency. Id. at 93.

With respect to the extortion charge, Mr. Brown questioned Ms. White regarding her finances and those she shared with Mr. Abeokuto. Ms. White confirmed that she and Petitioner "had an account together at SECU." Id. at 98.

Mr. Brown's cross examination of Mark Ringo, Marciana's father, was focused and to the point. Mr. Brown established that, when Mr. Ringo's son came out to the car that morning, he did not indicate anything unusual with regard to Marciana. Id. at 134.

Mr. Brown also used cross examination to highlight discrepancies in testimony. For example, he asked questions of Constance Greene, pointing out on several occasions the inconsistencies in her statement to the police and her testimony in court. For instance, in court, Ms. Greene testified that she saw Marciana "standing on the passenger side" of Mr. Abeokuto's car, "[j]ust leaning in," and "talking to Jamaal." Id. at 138, 139. Ms. Greene then testified that she saw Marciana get "in the passenger side . . . in the back." Id. at 140. Upon questioning by Mr. Brown, Ms. Greene admitted that she told the police that she saw Marciana running to Mr. Abeokuto's red car. Id. at 144. She also admitted that she told the police that Marciana got in on the driver's side of the car. Id. at 145. Importantly, upon further questioning by Mr. Brown, Ms. Greene was forced to admit that she told the police she wasn't actually sure who was in the car. Id. at 144. Ms. Greene further conceded that, when she saw Marciana, the child did not appear to be "under any kind of stress, duress, force or anything like that." Id. at 145.

Indeed, Mr. Brown cross examined many of the State's witnesses. As already mentioned, his inquiry was direct and focused. With respect to Dwayne Carter, Mr. Brown was able to establish that "swiping the card was something that [the employees] sometimes did, [they] weren't supposed to do but all sometimes did for each other " August 24, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("8/24 Tr.") at 9. Similarly, upon questioning by Mr. Brown, Thedrick Tapp admitted that "it was common practice . . . for employees to swipe each other's cards in and out " Id. at 21.

Through his cross examination of Detective Gary Hoover, Mr. Brown attacked the State's extortion charge. He highlighted the ambiguities in the letter Ms. White received on December 5, 2002. At the request of Mr. Brown, Detective Hoover read the letter into the record — "tell Stark want five thousand, put to bag and put in men bathroom at Druid Hill Park by 8 p.m. [tomorrow] or girl dies. If she die I just say we even, an eye for an eye." Id. at 73. In questioning Detective Hoover, Mr. Brown was able to show that the instructions in the letter were vague. For instance, when was the money to be delivered? What did the author mean by "tomorrow?" Was "tomorrow" a reference to the day after the letter was postmarked or the day after the letter was received? Where were the funds to be delivered? In cross examining Detective Hoover, Mr. Brown was able to establish that there were several men's bathrooms in the area of Druid Hill Park. Exactly where in the bathroom was the money to be left? In a stall? Under a sink? In a trash can? Mr. Brown's cross examination clearly was calculated to show that the author of the letter did not actually intend to receive any money.9

It was for Mr. Brown to decide which witnesses to cross examine and what information to elicit from them. He was not required to question every witness. Indeed, it would have been folly to inquire of witnesses who could not provide beneficial information. See State v. Borchardt, 396 Md. 586, 615 (2007).

Contrary to Mr. Abeokuto's bald, unsupported assertions, this Court finds that Mr. Brown developed a clear and reasonable strategy for defending his client and, moreover, appropriately followed through with that strategy. Mr. Aeokuto has failed to establish that Mr. Brown's representation in this regard was in any way deficient. 10

Mr. Abeokuto also contends that Trial Counsel "knew the State's witness[es] [were] in the courtroom [during] the entire trial (victim's parents) and failed to object." According to Mr. Abeokuto, Marciana's mother "made a loud outburst at [him]," which caused Judge Bollinger to admonish those in attendance to control their emotions or step out of the courtroom. Petitioner claims to have suffered prejudice as a result of the outburst.

The record reflects that, on August 23, 2004, before any testimony was taken, Mr. Brown sought to have the witnesses sequestered. 8/23 Tr. at 2. Judge Bollinger ordered that "[a]ll who are going to testify in this case kindly step outside and remain outside until you are called to testify. Please do not discuss your testimony with anyone." Id.

Marciana's parents were the second and third witnesses called to testify. 11 It is unclear from the record whether they were present in the courtroom prior to their testimony. At some point during Mr. Ringo's testimony, however, Judge Bollinger noticed Ms. White in the courtroom. Judge Bollinger asked the prosecutor whether he had "any intention of

Mr. Abeokuto failed to raise specific complaints or suggest what inquiries should have been made. He also failed to address how any perceived errors prejudiced his defense.

Officer Joseph Petrysak was the first witness called. He identified several photographs and oriented the Court with respect to the location of Marciana's apartment and her school, matters that were not in dispute. He also identified Mr. Abeokuto, another matter not in dispute. The officer also discussed his conversation with Mr. Abeokuto.

recalling Ms. White." 8/23 Tr. at 158. Mr. Brown interjected that the issue had been discussed, and he had "no problems with her being in" court. Id. Neither Ms. White nor Mr. Ringo was recalled.

During the State's closing argument, the prosecutor discussed the severity of the injuries inflicted upon Marciana. Specifically, the State directed the Court's attention to the injuries on her neck, saying that "if you look at the injuries to the neck, there [are] seven slashing wounds to the neck and there's the one main wound ... "August 27, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("8/27 Tr.") at 90. When she heard the description of the injuries, Ms. White called out "Jesus. Damn. Bitch." Id. at 91. Judge Bollinger then warned all in attendance that, if they could not control their emotions during the argument, they should "step outside the courtroom." Id.

Maryland Rule 5-615 provides for the exclusion of witnesses from the courtroom by court order "so that they cannot hear the testimony of other witnesses.... The court may continue the exclusion of a witness following the testimony of that witness if a party represents that the witness is likely to be recalled to give further testimony." Md. Rule 5-615(a). That acknowledged, not all who testify are to be excluded from the courtroom during the trial. By way of example, a court "shall not exclude pursuant to [the] Rule... a victim of a crime . . ., including any representative of such a deceased... victim." Md. Rule 5-615(b).

As already mentioned, Officer Petrysak was the first witness called. Given the scope of the questions put to him and the answers he provided, there was no concern that the officer's testimony might taint that of either Ms. White or Mr. Ringo were they in the courtroom at the time. The same can be said for the testimony of Ms. White. It would not have affected that of Mr. Ringo, in light of the questions asked. Moreover, as Marciana's parents, Ms. White and Mr. Ringo were entitled to be present for the entire trial. See Md. Rule 5-615(b). Finally, even if Mr. Abeokuto were able to prove that Mr. Brown rendered ineffective assistance in failing to object to Marciana's parents' presence in the courtroom, he has utterly failed to establish prejudice. 12

Initially, Mr. Abeokuto raised a number of issues with respect to the testimony provided by Dr. Saadia Alizai. By way of example, he complained that she testified without having first been placed under oath. More specifically, he argued that Dr. Alizai "was not subject to the penalty of perjury or any other consequence for not telling the truth..." He claimed that, "[h]ad the witness been sworn..., her testimony would have been different, she would have had to tell the truth and [he] would have been sent back to Perkins for a proper inpatient evaluation." According to Mr. Abeokuto, had he been evaluated inpatient, he would have "been found incompetent to stand trial..." Mr. Abeokuto appears most upset that, in his opinion, "[i]t was never placed on the record at all as to why [P]erkins made the decision to change the evaluation from court ordered inpatient to outpatient."

As already mentioned, some of these claims have been waived.¹³ Others have been withdrawn.¹⁴ That acknowledged, at the end of the first day of the competency hearing, both Dr. Inouye and Dr. Stevenson had completed their testimony. Judge Bollinger was trying to determine how many more witnesses would be called and whether the hearing could be concluded the following day. ¹⁵ Judge Bollinger indicated that, initially, he "was prepared to listen to Dr. Inouye and to Dr. Stevenson and render a decision" that day. Transcript of June 21, 2004, proceedings ("6/21 Tr.") at 178. Judge Bollinger concluded, however, that he "would be remiss and abdicating [his] own judicial responsibility . . . if [he did] not afford Dr. Waltos for the defense an opportunity to present evidence . . . " Id. at 178-79. Judge Bollinger also mentioned that he was "concerned about the Order of Court that Mr. Abeokuto be transported to a facility . . . for in-patient evaluation." Id.

In response to Judge Bollinger's inquiry, the State offered to "get someone from Perkins by tomorrow to address the issue of the in-patient evaluation and what, what their procedures were and what they, why they made that decision." Id. at 181. Following additional discussion, the State again offered "to have somebody brought in from Perkins tomorrow to explain what's going on." Id. at 183. The conversation then moved on to who at Perkins would have the required information. Id. at 184.

Dr. Alizai was present in the courtroom and indicated that she and Dr. Kim-Lee would be able to provide relevant information. Id. at 185. In response to direct questions from Judge Bollinger regarding in-patient versus out-patient evaluations, Dr. Alizai offered that, "generally if it's an in-patient order most of the time someone is admitted because [their] hand is forced . . . [T]here was a shortage of beds . . . but they did make a bed for

Ms. Bull, earlier in the day, had explained that Dr. Waltos required surgery and "would be unavailable for six to eight weeks." 8/16 Tr. at 3. She argued that "his observations, his impressions, his expertise [were] critical to have available to the Court in live testimony." Id. at 4. She told Judge Bollinger that the defense needed "Dr. Waltos's testimony to rebut the Perkins report." Id.

Mr. Abeokuto the day he came. There was that possibility that he would be admitted." Id. According to Dr. Alizai, the "only reason a patient, a Defendant would be admitted would be if there was doubt as to competency." Id. at 186.

The state of

Based on those discussions, the following day, Dr. Kim-Lee and Dr. Alizai both testified under oath regarding competency evaluations performed at Perkins. According to Dr. Kim-Lee, [t]ypically what happens, obviously we receive an order for an evaluation with a referral. We — I assign the case to an evaluator and the evaluation is completed. We routinely complete all our evaluations, regardless of whether they're competency to stand trial or criminal responsibility, on an outpatient basis. We do not admit the Defendant to the hospital or do the evaluations, in other words, as an in-patient, unless there's a concern about competency to stand trial or there's another concern, for example, about a diagnostic issue that requires further evaluation as an in-patient.

June 22, 2004, transcript of proceedings ("6/22 Tr.") at 6-7. Dr. Kim-Lee further explained that, in Mr. Abeokuto's case, it was specified that he was to be evaluated as an in-patient. So as a result of that, we did, in this case what we do routinely with any other case when we receive such an order, we — Mr. Schwartz, my assistant, notified the Judge or I don't know particularly specifically who he spoke to but basically contacted them to inform them of our process and how we do things at Perkins. In other words, that we do all evaluations on an out-patient basis and only admit if there is a need.

Id. at 8. In addition, Dr. Kim-Lee testified that she also spoke with Judge Bollinger's assistant, Angela, regarding the issue. Id. Judge Bollinger interjected, "that the information given to [him] was that they would do an evaluation to determine whether or not they would need further in-patient care to complete the evaluation, but if they did the initial evaluation and deemed that that was sufficient, that would be the way they were going to go, to which [he] said, that's the way they do it, that's the way they do it." Id. at 9. Dr. Kim-Lee confirmed that she provided the information to both the State and defense. Id. Dr. Kim-Lee also confirmed that Mr. Abeokuto's evaluation "was handled like any other case and . . . because there was not a concern about competency or a diagnostic concern that warranted further evaluation as an in-patient, this Defendant was handled as any other Defendant at Perkins and was not admitted to the hospital." Id. at 11-12.

Mr. Abeokuto is correct that Dr. Alizai was not under oath when she responded to Judge Bollinger's logistical questions posed at the end of the day on June 21, 2004. It is clear, however, that she was not testifying at the time. It is also clear that any complaint with respect to that discussion has been waived, and that Mr. Abeokuto has not established prejudice. Moreover, contrary to Mr. Abeokuto's assertions, Dr. Inouye and Dr. Kim-Lee both provided credible testimony delineating why the evaluation was performed on an outpatient basis. Finally, to the extent that Mr. Abeokuto suggests that Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell should have objected to the June 21, 2004, end of the day colloquy, he is incorrect. Mr. Abeokuto has failed to establish ineffective assistance of counsel. He has failed to establish prejudice.

Mr. Abeokuto's next contention is that Trial Counsel was ineffective in that he "called none of the witnesses that were already prepared and ready to go by the previous attorneys," thereby prejudicing Petitioner's defense. Mr. Abeokuto, however, does not identify the witnesses or the beneficial information they were ready to impart. Again, Petitioner has failed to establish that Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance.

Mr. Abeokuto next asserts that Mr. Brown failed to pursue and adequately discuss with him an NCR defense. This suggestion ignores completely Mr. Brown's significant history with Petitioner and the convincing testimony of Dr. Inouye, Dr. Alezai, and Dr. Coleman. As Mr. Brown made clear during his hearing testimony, he was personally acquainted with Mr. Abeokuto long before Marciana Ringo's death. Indeed, Mr. Brown and Petitioner first met when Mr. Abeokuto was just a child. The two spent a considerable amount of time together over the years. More specifically, Mr. Brown hired Mr. Abeokuto to work in Mr. Brown's law office and, on occasion, had Petitioner to his home. Moreover, Mr. Brown represented Mr. Abeokuto in a federal matter related to the same incident and had worked closely with him. When specifically asked about an NCR defense, Mr. Brown explained his reasoning as follows:

I was working with what he had told me had occurred before his arrest. What he told me had occurred, and so you know, those things, and knowing him, and listening to him, and hearing his reasoning, and his plans even as he was being investigated, there was no question in my mind that yes, if you want to call someone to do something like that of sound mind, he was of sound mind.

AR 10:07:58 a.m. – 10:08:15 a.m.

When pressed on the issue, Mr. Brown elaborated:

[keep] in mind that this was not in a vacuum. In other words, they didn't know him, they just met him, he's facing the death penalty, I got it, no question about it, leave no stone unturned. You have to understand, he was a kid when I first met him, and there had been a lot of time with him, discussions about all of this, so to me [not criminally responsible] wasn't an issue. I can understand how someone not knowing him, having this case, looking for a way out, trying to work him through all of this would want to engrain the no stone unturned and have him evaluated.

AR at 10:08:53 a.m. - 10:10.09 a.m.

In a nutshell, Mr. Brown testified that "you don't really have to be a weatherman to know which way the wind is blowing. You know enough about human nature, the NCRs, and competency, they stand out. They jump out at you." AR at 10:16:55 a.m. – 10:17:00 a.m.

Moreover, the many healthcare providers who interacted with Mr. Abeokuto failed to raise any concerns regarding his competency. For instance, Dr. Inouye testified that he "really didn't have difficulty obtaining information" for Mr. Abeokuto. 6/21 Tr. at 25. Indeed, he "found Mr. Abeokuto to be a cooperative Defendant." Id. Dr. Inouye noted that, according to Mr. Abeokuto, "he had never been treated for a psychiatric illness. He never received psychiatric treatment. And had never, in fact, received [a] psychiatric diagnosis." Id. at 25-26. When specifically asked, Mr. Abeokuto told Dr. Inouye that he had felt "down" when he was detained at the Harford County Detention Center "because he missed his mother and father." Id. at 26. Mr. Abeokuto indicated "that he had begun to experience anxiety after he arrived at the Baltimore County Detention Center. That he had not really felt anxious when he was at the Harford County Detention Center. And he related ... feeling stressed and feeling anxious." Id.

Dr. Inouye opined, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, that Mr. Abeokuto "ha[d] the capacity to understand the nature and object of the proceedings against him. And ha[d] the capacity to assist his attorney in his defense." Id. at 30. Dr. Inouye diagnosed

Mr. Abeokuto with adjustment disorder, "with mixed anxiety and depressed mood." Id. at 30-31. Importantly, Dr. Inouye also opined that Mr. Abeokuto was malingering. This was based on Mr. Abeokuto's report of "an image of a shiny red devil that would sit or stand behind him." Id. at 29, 34, 35. In Dr. Inouye's opinion, "Mr. Abeokuto's report of this devil, or this hallucination was variable in nature. And the fact that it occurred in this legal setting in his evaluation for competency to stand trial caused [him] to believe that in fact he was malingering." Id. at 35.

Dr. Inouye found additional support that Mr. Abeokuto was malingering in Petitioner's report "that he had awoken one morning at the Baltimore County Detention Center and found feces in his hand." Id. at 36. According to Dr. Inouye, "the only psychiatric diagnosis that . . . could possibly meet this experience that Mr. Abeokuto report[ed] [was] sleepwalking." Id. at 37. Dr. Inouye found unlikely that, while sleepwalking, Mr. Abeokuto could "somehow neatly defecate into his hand . . . [g]et back into his clothing. Get back into bed without getting fecal material on anything else. Then wake to find it in his hand." Id. at 37-38.

Dr. Coleman, the Director of the Mental Health Services for the Baltimore County Detention Center, testified that "[t]here was some incongruency between what [he] saw objectively and what the client was reporting to [him]." 6/22 Tr. at 20. According to Dr. Coleman, "there were no symptoms that were consistent with what [Mr. Abeokuto] was reporting to [him]." Id. at 21. Dr. Coleman was concerned that Mr. Abeokuto was embellishing his symptoms. Id. Importantly, according to Dr. Coleman, it was described to him that Mr. Abeokuto was "talking on the telephone, ... laughing, . . . show[ing] no signs of depression, no signs of psychosis, so he show[ed] no acute symptoms in that period of time . . . and . . . that was discussed with him on several occasions." Id. at 57.

Dr. Alizai observed Mr. Abeokuto in the courtroom during the competency hearing. She noted that "he occasionally put his head in this hand but was looking around, appeared to interact to some degree with his mother, he turned around, acknowledged her presence and was looking around the courtroom." 6/22 Tr. at 75. According to Dr. Alizai, Mr. Abeokuto appeared to "be making eye contact with the person testifying, paying attention to the Court proceedings." Id. Dr. Alizai compared this to the afternoon proceedings when Mr. Abeokuto knew that he was being watched. "The general content of the proceedings had . . . been similar throughout but when he knew he was being observed directly by Dr. Stevenson, he appeared to be . . . embellishing somewhat, holding his head down more. According to Dr. Alizai, when Mr. Abeokuto "knew that he was being watched directly, he appeared to be more dramatic . . . " Id. at 75-76.

Dr. Alizai commented that, when she saw Mr. Abeokuto at Perkins, his behavior was nothing like that described by Dr. Stevenson. According to Dr. Alizai, Mr. Abeokuto answered... questions appropriately and thoroughly, and when it was time to move on to a different topic, he moved on." Id. at 80. Dr. Alizai opined, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, that Mr. Abeokuto's "behavior in Court [was] further malingering. He [was] dramatizing his actions. He [was] trying to make it clear to the Court that he [was] suffering and that he [was] not competent. The goal would be to put off the proceedings." Id. at 90-91.

Even Dr. Stevenson, a psychologist retained by the defense to assist with mitigation, who spent more than 25 hours with Mr. Abeokuto, failed to "raise any alarm . . . to defense counsel that [Mr. Abeokuto] was not competent to stand trial." Id. at 118, 121, 122, 152.

With his personal knowledge of Petitioner, Trial Counsel was unsurprised by the findings of the health care providers. When Mr. Brown was asked about the findings, he vividly remembered the doctors having concluded that Petitioner was malingering, or purposely producing falsely exaggerating psychological symptoms with the goal of being rendered incompetent.

[STATE]: You also recall that in the course of the competency hearing there was a finding by the doctors at Clifton T. Perkins that he had been --

[TRIAL COUNSEL]: Malingering, I do remember that.

[STATE]: -- malingering, and that diagnosis is basically, would have been a factor to consider in pursuing the criminal responsibility issue.

[TRIAL COUNSEL]: Yes, it would, but it paled in comparison to the value in my mind of my experience with him and my knowledge of him and familiarity with him.

AR at 10:15:26 a.m. -10:16:05 a.m.

As pointed out by Mr. Abeokuto, generally, "counsel has a duty to make reasonable investigations or to make a reasonable decision that makes particular investigations unnecessary." Strickland, 466 U.S. at 690-91. But, "when a defendant has given counsel reason to believe that pursuing certain investigations would be fruitless . . . , counsel's failure to pursue those investigations may not later be challenged as unreasonable." Id. In this instance, Mr. Abeokuto has failed to establish that Mr. Brown's representation was deficient. He has failed to establish prejudice.

Mr. Abeokuto next complains that Mr. Brown "prejudice[d] [his] defense by turning over all of [Petitioner's] work product for NCR to the State without [his] permission or [his] knowledge." Mr. Abeokuto fails to identify, with any specificity, what information was turned over to the State and specifically how that information prejudiced his defense.

Petitioner next asserts that Mr. Brown "did not prepare for the competency issue" that his public defenders were litigating. According to Mr. Abeokuto, "[h]ad [Mr. Brown] prepared for the competency hearing and contacted the already retained experts there was a strong possibility [Petitioner] would have been found incompetent to stand trial."

The competency hearing was scheduled for June 21-22, 2004. At that time, Mr. Abeokuto was represented by Amanda Bull and Eric MacDonnell. Over the course of those two days, Judge Bollinger heard testimony from Dr. Inouye, Dr. Stevenson, Dr. Kim-Lee, Dr. Coleman, and Dr. Alizai. At the request of the defense, Judge Bollinger continued the hearing until August 16, 2004, when Dr. Waltos could be available.

Dr. Waltos testified that he saw Mr. Abeokuto on an emergent basis, at the request of Ms. Bull and Mr. MacDonnell. According to Dr. Waltos, Mr. Abeokuto's "attorneys came down and expressed concern that he wasn't very responsive during the jury selection process, and the question was raised as to whether or not he was able to sufficiently cooperate with his counsel." 8/16 Tr. at 4. As a result of the attorneys' concerns, Dr. Waltos evaluated Petitioner, spending approximately 15 or 20 minutes with him. Id. As a result of his interaction with Petitioner, Dr. Waltos had "some concern about [Mr.

Abeokuto's] ability to cooperate at that time." Id. Dr. Waltos went on to testify, however, that he had no opinion as to whether Mr. Abeokuto, in fact, suffers from a dissociative disorder. Id. Dr. Waltos made clear that he was not in a position to opine, to any degree of medical certainty, whether Mr. Abeokuto was competent either at the time of the emergent evaluation or at the time of the August 16, 2004, hearing. Id. at 5.

Mr. Brown told Judge Bollinger that he had reviewed the transcript of the June hearings, that his client was still hearing voices, and that he otherwise would submit. Judge Bollinger determined that Mr. Abeokuto was competent.

Petitioner has failed to establish that Mr. Brown provided ineffective assistance.

Moreover, Mr. Abeokuto has failed to establish prejudice.

CONCLUSION

"It is all too tempting for a defendant to second-guess counsel's assistance after conviction or adverse sentence, and it is all too easy for a court, examining counsel's defense after it has proved unsuccessful, to conclude that a particular act or omission of counsel was unreasonable." Strickland, 466 U.S. at 689. Therefore, a "fair assessment of attorney performance requires that every effort be made to eliminate the distorting effects of hindsight, to reconstruct the circumstances of counsel's challenged conduct, and to evaluate the conduct from counsel's perspective at the time." Id. In this case, Mr. Brown's strategy was sound. Petitioner has failed to establish that his attorney's representation was in any way deficient. Similarly, he has failed to establish prejudice. Therefore, for all of

DR. Stephen W. Saebert; Who's report is attached intermed me open contactory him for a copy of his report. I referred me that my previous foial attorney Amada E. Bull Nevce asked him to do a NCR evaluation. This was to my supprise.

The Second Chain Exic Mc donnell testiled at my post conviction preming that he didn't know what was taking so long. In my Conversation with him cover the year he was not some what the diagnois whom he no loyer had the paper work.

All this began with Dr. Jonice Stevenson - pychologist was was Seeing me before trial 5 he stated to me I was close to a NCR but; t all depended on Dr. Siebut, This was before I knew what a NCR was. So per my Appointment with mess Stevenson that day Amenda was to ask for a NCR Evaluation, which I know come to find out she Never did, she only asked for a presentance investigation. The entire time I'm being evaluated I believed it was for NCR and it wasn't even After being settince to death. This is what Cause me to ask Wassen Brown to go with the NCR when he took over the Case

Do, I basically went to trical with No evaluation (proper) because MR. Brown Never controlled my expects who were already working.

RE: State of Maryland v. Jamaal Abeokuto

At your request, I have conducted a comprehensive forensic psychiatric evaluation of Jamaal Abeokuto. He was initially interviewed in my office on 3/17/04 for 3 hours and he was subsequently at the Baltimore County Detention Center on 4/02/04, 6/04/04, 6/11/04, 6/18/04, and 6/21/04 for a total of 10 hours. More recently, I had the opportunity to interview Mr. Abeokuto at the Maryland Correctional Adjustment Center on 10/09/06 for 2 hours. I have discussed Mr. Abeokuto's history with Janice Stevenson PhD and Pam Taylor LCSW-C, the latter on 3/21/07. Finally, as part of my evaluation, I reviewed the following records:

Based on my history, review of records, and examination of Jamaal Abeokuto, and my knowledge, skill, experience, training, and education in Psychiatry, Child Psychiatry, and Forensic Psychiatry, I have the following opinions:

- 1. Malingering is the intentional production of false or exaggerated symptoms for a specific purpose. It is specific to context. Evidence that an individual is malingering does not exclude the presence of an underlying mental disorder. For example, an individual with documented schizophrenic disorder can be malingering if they produce or exaggerate their symptoms in order to gain admission to a hospital.
- 2. There is clear evidence for a family history of major mental illness, paranoia, and idiosyncratic "cult-like" religious beliefs in multiple persons who raised Jamaal Abeokuto sufficient to induce a shared psychotic disorder (folie á deux).
- 3. Jamal Abeokuto has a history and evidence for paranoid personality traits beginning in childhood and adolescence that was manifested in different contexts by social anxiety, suspiciousness of others, pathological jealousy, perceived hidden meanings, and magical thinking sufficient to make a diagnosis of a paranoid personality disorder.
- There is a history for a depressive episode prior to the criminal offense and evidence for a chronic depressive disorder subsequent to his arrest that has required treatment with antidepressant medications.
- 5. There is a clear history and evidence for the presence of nonbizarre delusions sufficient to warrant the diagnosis of a delusional disorder, mixed type. There is evidence at different times for religious, persecutory, jealous, and somatic delusional themes. Subsequent to his arrest, Mr. Abeokuto has been prescribed antipsychotic medications by more than one treating psychiatrist.
- 6. Based on the above mental disorders and impairments, the capacity of the Jamaal Abeokuto to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of the law was substantially impaired as a result of mental incapacity, mental disorder, or emotional disturbance.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND

JAMAAL K. ABEOKUTO #323-969

Petitioner

CIVIL ACTION NO. RDB-08-3203

v.

Respondent

ORDER

On July 20, 2009, the undersigned deemed timely an application for habeas corpus relief filed by Jamaal K. Abeukuto. Respondent seeks reconsideration of that decision. Paper No. 17. Petitioner has responded to the reconsideration request Paper No. 19, and Respondent has replied thereto. Paper No. 20.

Respondent's arguments that the application is untimely are compelling, but need not be addressed here. Petitioner on two occasions has asked that this case be dismissed without prejudice so that he may complete state post-conviction review. Paper Nos. 14 and 19. The Court notes that Petitioner filed a pro se petition for post-conviction relief in the Circuit Court for Baltimore County on June 10, 2009. This filing may in fact have been sufficient to toll the one-year federal limitations period. Thus, dismissal of the instant action without prejudice to refilling upon completion of state post-conviction review is appropriate.¹

Accordingly, it is this 25th day of August 2009, by the United States District Court for the District of Maryland, hereby Ordered that:

1. The above-captioned case IS DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE;

¹ The Court is without apparent authority to extend Petitioner additional time following the completion of post-conviction review in which to file a petition here. This dilemma appears to have resulted from Petitioner having waited until the last possible day within the federal limitations period to seek post-conviction relief in the Circuit Court.

2. The Clerk SHALL CLOSE this case; as

 The Clerk SHALL MAIL a copy of this Order to Petitioner and to counsel of record.
